- Put yourself in Whitney's shoes. How would you feel if you were in a terrible accident, in a coma, only to wake up a month later to realize your classmate's family was taking care of you? They thought you were someone else, and your own family thought you were dead and had buried you.
- How did Laura's family make this mistake? How do you think both families felt after learning the truth?
- Could there be a situation where your family might not recognize you? Explain.
